Missouri and Illinois Bounty Lands

THE subscriber has now for sale a number of the most valuable tracts, in both of those rich and improving bodies of lands, and can supply applicants with any number they may wish, and in any part of either territory. Every person who visits the Western Country, particularly those who intend settling there, should take with them a few quarter sections of those lands: every man who has a young and growing family, and can spare a few hundred dollars, should not miss the present opportunity of getting some of those lands; as it will insure to his children a greater certainty than any other investment he can possibly make for their benefit.—From the immense emigration to both Illinois and Missouri, particularly to the military lands, it is certain there must be a great rise in the price very soon, and those who miss the present opportunity, will never again have a chance to do so well. The patents will be sold very low for cash, good notes or bonds at short dates or bank stock in the Central Bank of Georgetown and Washington, and the Farmers and Mechanics' Bank of Georgetown. As I am a large dealer in Military Bounty Lands, I can supply any number that may be required.

Please to apply at my Exchange Banking House, Bridge-street, Georgetown.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1819

Dr. Pascalis, in an account of the yellow fever in Spain, mentions a village which escaped contagion entirely in consequence of the number of bakers, which gave rise to the idea, that the smoke of the ovens purified the air, and deprived it of its deleterious effects. We can readily believe this to be the case, and from personal observation. The city of Tunis is partly surrounded by a canal, in which all the filth of that confined place is deposited; there is no water, or running stream, to cleanse the canal; the filth is settled, and constantly covered with a thick green scum, and emitting a most offensive odour, as it is under the walls of the town—it is also under the windows of the houses inhabited generally by Europeans, and yet no ill effects have been felt from it. This is accounted for by the numerous baths in the city, which are heated by burning rosemary bushes and balsamic herbs, which purifies and sweetens the air. Seldom have instances of malignant fever occurred there, though the plague prevails; yet Europeans, by quarantining themselves in their houses, and taking the air on their terraces, escape the contagion. Europeans have taken a fever by residing in the neighborhood of the ruins of Carthage and Utica, and exploring the subterraneous passages, inhaling the confined air, &c.; but, in the city there is not much danger.

Talking of bakers, reminds us of a singular competition now prevailing in this city among the gentlemen of the dough, who shall bake the largest shilling loaf. This is an excellent spirit of rivalry, productive of great benefit to the poor. One of these bakers announces, that his loaf shall weigh 12 ounces more than the corporation assize. If such a thing can be done, the corporation should graduate their assize to the times. Wheat is very cheap at present. [N. Y. Nat. Adv.

To the Editor of the N. York Nat. Advocate.

Albany. Oct. 3d, 1819.

The following circumstance, of which I was a witness, occurred here last night.—Should you deem it worthy of insertion, it is at your service—it will probably gratify your readers, and, no doubt, afford entertainment to all lovers of mirth.

In looking over the Albany Directory, at the Eagle Tavern, a gentleman near me observed the name "Silva Zebera, fortune teller, No. 8, Chapel-street;" and proposed, if I would accompany him, to pay a visit to this palmister and professor of necromantic art, wishing no better sport. We set out, and, after a mile's walk, arrived at this Albanic oracle; mounting a broken stoop, and entering the mystic parlor, a black, dirty sybil, nearly fourteen stone weight made her appearance—requested us to sit down—took a pack of cards, made a circle, and went thro the regular mode of proceeding: "a journey by water," "severe illness," "fortune in marriage," "six or seven children," "great danger and happy escape"—when, suddenly, out of the drawer of which she had taken the cards, a tremendous voice vociferated, "hold' you d—d old hag—you're telling lies!"—the voice ceased, and the astonishment depicted on the countenance of poor Silva Zebere, and on that of her assistant, a black girl, can be more easily imagined than described. This silence continued for a few seconds, in some degree recovering herself from her confusion—when again voices assailed her, apparently under her seat, and out of the chimney: the scene now became truly alarming—both women started—overthrowing table, cards, and the whole apparatus, running out of the room swearing that the devil was in the house—leaving to ourselves to act as we thought best—accordingly, we walked home. The gentleman who caused all this ludicrous bustle, and made an impression on me that I shall not speedily forget, was Mr. Charles, the celebrated ventriloquist.

I am, sir, your obedient servant.

In a late Quebec Hospital Report, we find the following: "The case most worthy of remark in the Surgical department, happened to a man, who in the act of chopping wood, completely divided the first phalanx of the middle finger; his application to the institution was nearly two hours and a half after the accident; he then had the end of the finger in his pocket, and to all appearance, without viability; it immediately, however, occurred to our minds that the success which Dr. Balfour of Edinburgh, had experienced in similar cases, by instantly re-uniting separated parts, might be had recourse to in the present case, although the lapse of time was greater by half than we are led to believe by his writings on this subject. We then accordingly, put his plan into trial, by the common means of adhesive plaster, and not without success, for on removing the dressings after the third day, adhesion of the separated parts had evidently taken place in two or three points, and vitality in the end of the finger was as great to the feel as any other part of the living body—the same dressings were continued, and in three days more adhesion was complete."

ALEXANDRIA:
THURSDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 14.

Proposals have been issued in Kingston, Upper Canada, for publishing a religious monthly magazine. The editors remark in their prospectus, that there is no work of the kind now in the Canadas. The friends of the gospel, and those who have the best interests of society at heart, will certainly wish it success.

In consequence of the existence of a malignant fever in the city of New-York, the Right Rev. Bishop Hobart has appointed St. Peter's Church, in the city of Albany, as the place of meeting of the annual Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the state of New-York, on Tuesday, 19th inst. instead of the place specified in the particular notices.

ITEMS OF NEWS.

The Georgetown (S. C.) paper of the 2d inst. contains very favorable accounts of the health of that place; and also states "that the planters never had a more favorable season for getting in crops, as scarcely a drop of rain has fallen since the commencement of harvest time."

The Norfolk Theatre opened on the 29th ult. with the comedy of the Will, and the farce of the Poor Soldier.

It is mentioned in the Rutland Herald, that 25,000 dollars in specie were lost in the steam boat Phœnix, lately burnt on lake Champlain.—This is not correct. Nothing like that sum was on board the boat when the accident took place—and little or none of what was on board was lost, or even defaced.—It was mostly in the company's iron chest, and which was taken out of the wreck not materially injured. [Albany Gaz.

PECUNIARY EMBARRASSMENTS.

A county meeting is to be held in the village of Buffalo, on the 12th inst. to take into consideration the pecuniary embarrassment of the county, and to recommend such measures as may be thought best calculated to afford relief, and to prevent sacrifices of property. [Ibid.

Monies recieved by the treasurer of the American Bible Society, during the month of September, 1819, amounted to twenty-nine hundred and five dollars and forty-five cts. Bibles and testaments disposed at the society's depository in New-York during the same month—Bibles 1765—testaments 1310. Total 3075—Value 1906 dols. 74 cts. [Ibid.

EPISCOPAL CONSECRATION.

The Connecticut Herald says—"The Rev. Thomas C. Brownell, L. L. D. will be consecrated bishop of this diocese, in Trinity church, New-Haven, on Wednesday, 27th October."

The anniversary of the American Education Society, instituted for the purpose of preparing, gratuitously, pious young men for the Gospel Ministry, was celebrated at Boston, on Thursday last. The exercises on the occasion were truly solemn and interesting. The receipts of the treasury during the past year, were about 19,000 dollars, and the Society has under its patronage about two hundred young men preparing for the Ministry. [Prov. Amer.

A Buffalo paper mentions, that about 130 fine looking U. S. recruits, under command of captain Perry, who arrived in that village a short time since from Boston, embarked on board the steam-boat Walk-in-the-Water, on the 27th ult. on their way to St. Louis.

An officer of the Government at Washington, being told the King of Spain would not ratify the late treaty, replied, "then we shall get a better one."

The fact, that during the unfavorable weather a few days since, near 300 vessels put into one harbor (Portland) near one extremity of the U. States, for safety, may assist in forming an estimate of the immense coasting trade of the nation.

GREAT YIELD.

Was harvested on the 18th inst. by Messrs. Abells, of the village of Chatauque, N. Y. from one acre of ground, one hundred and fourteen bushels of corn.

Mr. Timothy Jones, of the town of Milo, in New-York, this season raised, from two gills of white beans, two bushels and eighteen quarts.

LARGE EELS.

A few days since were caught at John Lawrence's mill, in the same town, 13 eels which weighed 65 pounds.

In Rhode Island, Stephen Wilmarth has been indicted for keeping and maintaining an ill governed and disorderly house, the same being the State Jail!

One Newman, of Portsmouth, has been sentenced to the State Prison, N. H. for an assault with an intent to kill his father!

A white male child, about 5 months old with its linen marked M. S. was picked up in the yard of a house in Old Town, Baltimore; its unnatural mother has not been discovered.

In consequence of the many arrivals at Havana lately, the price of flour had fallen from 30 to 18 dollars.

PATRIOTIC RECOMMENDATIONS.

We observe in a Newark paper, that the grand jury of Essex county, New-Jersey, in considering the increase of vice and crime in the community, have with great propriety traced it to the "want of employment among the laboring and industrious portion of community." After some very appropriate remarks illustrating the necessity of encouraging domestic industry, they conclude by recommending to their fellow-citizens the use of domestic manufactures in preference to foreign; and the institution of societies for the promotion of agriculture and manufactures throughout the county and state. TOWN MEETING.

The Democratic Republicans of Philadelphia, friendly to the two adminstrations, and to heal the collisions between the friends of the Aurora and Democratic Press, held a town meeting at the state-house on Tuesday last. John Geyer was called to the chair on motion of William Duane, and William Delany was chosen secretary. The business of the coalition was entered upon with spirit—and the ticket, on which William Duane is placed, was carried.

In reply to some remarks made by George M. Dallas, William Duane observed, pointing to Mr. Dallas, "When that child—that young man was in his cradle, the same plan adopted in forming a ticket on the present occasion had been pursued. The gentleman, he said, held an office, and was interested in existing abuses."

Mr. Dallas again rose, and said. "In relation to the attack made upon him by Mr. Duane, he begged leave to inform the chairman, that it was in every way agreeable to his feelings; that his blood tingled in his veins with pleasure, when assailed from that quarter; for he had been educated justly to appreciate, and therefore to regard as honorable to himself, the abuse of that man; and whatever might be his youth, and whatever his supposed inconsistency, this sentiment was what he should feel a pride in proclaiming here among his fellow citizens, before the face of the individual, or to the world."

Mr. Duane made no reply to Mr. Dallas.

HYDROPHOBIA.

The Commercial Advertiser observes that, so much having been written of late on the virtues of the Sculcap as a cure of Hydrophobia, perhaps the success of the application mentioned in the subjoined letter, which appeared in the 45th volume of the Sporting Magazine, may not be thought undeserving the notice of the medical profession in this country. [Washington City Gazette.

Sir—Having been unfortunately bitten, in the year 1810, by a dog that died of hydrophobia only twenty-four hours after I received the wound, I beg leave to state a remedy that I know to be effectual. The bite was on the back of my left hand, very deep, and about two inches long. I thought, at the time, that the best method to prevent the virus being carried into the system would be to decompose the parts by the application of a substance that would act effectually, and also mildly; I accordingly poured into the wound a quantity of muriatic acid. I preferred this to any other of the mineral acids, as its action on animal matter is not so violent. In the course of about ten minutes its effect on the wound was such, that I supposed there could be no danger of the infectious matter being absorbed. I then washed the hand with a dilute alkaline liquor, to neutralize the acid, and prevent any further action. In the course of a fortnight, by dressings of simple cerate, the wound was perfectly healed.

I had communicated this to a friend, who happened to be in the west of England, at a time when there was considerable alarm about mad dogs, and, in consequence of it, he took the precaution of wearing a phial of muriatic acid in his pocket. This gentleman having seen two horses and a pig bitten, he instantly applied the acid to the wound of the horses, but not to the pig; the former of which actually remained unaffected, but the latter died of hydrophobia the twelfth day after it was bitten.

Yours, very respectfully,

WILLIAM STARK.

It having pleased Providence to take from them their respective partners, the two lovers in youth, now friends in age, have joined their fortunes in matrimony. It is worth remark, that the married couple before mentioned, the children of the bride and bridegroom, were present; and witnessed the union of their parents with real satisfaction. [Nat. Intel.

A letter to the editors of the National Intelligencer, under date of September 19th, from the neighborhood of Mobile, (Alabama) affords a very distressing account of a mortality in that place. The Yellow Fever, in its most malignant form, prevails at Mobile.—The whole population of the town does not exceed eight or nine hundred. But there died, in the week preceding the date of the letter, on Monday 7; Tuesday 9; Wednesday 6; Thursday 11; Friday 7; Saturday 12; Sunday, before 9 o'clock, 4. Making an average of nearly eight per day, or one per day out of every hundred souls! The Plague cannot be worse than this; and, what is more extrordinary, the Mobile paper of the 15th is silent on the subject; as silent as the New-Orleans papers are, whilst disease is peopling their cemetries with scores a day. Our informant adds, that the town of Blakely is entirely evacuated, as he is told, in consequence of the sickness. It is unpleasant to communicate such news; but it would be treacherous to withhold it.

From a London paper.

DIED—Richard Baker, of Westleigh, Somersetshire, England, a small farmer, better known by the name of Conjuror Baker, aged 70, having during far the greater part of his life practised the "Black Art." In noticing the death of a character who for nearly half a century, has been daily and hourly employed in alternately counting the wages of his villainies, and in laughing at the follies of a cheated multitude, it would be no unfit opportunity for taxing the risibilities of our readers, by pourtraying the deceased knave with all the mirthful embellishments of which his life and occupation are so abundantly susceptible. In common justice, we might for once laugh at him, who has, in so many thousand instances, amused and profited himself by making a jest of others; but his life is too much clogged with the heaviness of a guilty account, to allow one redeeming ray to qualify the lurid aspect of his mortal reckoning. It may surprise the distant reader, whose ears have never been afflicted with the doleful superstitions of the western counties, to be informed, that such was the fame of the deceased wizard, that the educated as well as the uninstructed of all classes, were in the habit of resorting to him from all parts of this and the neighboring countries for the exercise of his cabalistic skill, and on a Sunday, which was a day for his high orgies, vehicles of a superior as well as lowly description were found to bring him an eager throng of votaries. His reputation was universal, and his gains proportionate. The wonders of his art would fill the Alexandria Library. Ba crops, lost cattle, lost treasure and lost he brought their respective sufferers in ceaseless crowds to his door. They were all overlooked, he said; and they overlooked his knavery in their confidence in his skill. He foretold the Southcottinians that the Shiloh would not come, and who but a conjuror would have known this? The tenant of the sterile land was after a careful instruction of the presiding star, advised to provide a certain quantity of manure, which being spread over his ground in the form of ram's horns at 12 o'clock precisely on the full moon night, would infallibly cause a good crop. This astonishing prediction has been repeatedly verified!

Strayed stock, and mislaid property have been strangely recovered, by only being well looked after, provided the wise man had only once taken the matter in hand; and many a relentless Phillis who had parted with her Strephon in a huff, has been heard to exclaim on finding him return at the very hour calculated by the conjuror,—'that sure Baker and the devil were in partnership.' If to juggling artifices and petty fooleries of this description, the man had limited his imposture, he might have left the world with the simple reputation of a knave; but his avarice led him to delude the victim of disease into a fatal reliance on his affected skill, and very numerous are the instances of this description. Charmed powders and mystic lotions were confided in to the exclusion of rational advice and proper remedies, and the death of the old and young has been the consequent penalty of such deplorable imbecility. A child last week died at Wellington, a martyr to its mother's folly of this nature.—She consulted the heartless villain and was assured the infant was "overlooked." Some powders were given to her, accompanied with the slang verbosity of his craft, which the little sufferer was compelled to swallow, notwithstanding the mother declared that it made her heart bleed to see the agonies of her child while taking the dose. The consequence was as we have stated; and thus the guilt of a cold blooded murderer, is superadded to the atrocities which have marked the career of this miscreant through life. His habits were those of an unsocial drunkard; but his necromancy, notwithstanding the evidence of his selfish indulgence, has enabled him to leave some property. [Taunton Courier.

Lancaster, Sept. 7.

About half past eight this evening, Robert Jones, Joseph Healy, George Swift, John Thacker Saxton, Samuel Bamford, and Robert Wild, charged with a conspiracy (in custody) were discharged; Sir Charles Wolsley became bail for most of them. Hunt, Johnson, Morehouse & Knight, (out on bail) also gave bail and traversed to the indictment.

After Hunt had pleaded, he asked Mr. Baron Wood whether the indictment ought not to have been read, to which he replied, "certainly, if you wish it," on which Hunt said, "it is immaterial, my Lord, as it is only a compound of falsehood and folly." The matter then ended, and the orator and all his friends retired to the Black Bull, Church-street, where they dined.

ENGLAND—REFORMING SOCIETIES.

Female Reforming Society of Stockport.

From a Lancaster paper.

On Monday evening, 19th July, the second meeting of the members of this institution took place in a large room at the Wind-mill in Stockport, when Mrs. Stewart moved that Mrs. Halworth be President: she knew, from her well tried principles, that she was the most proper person of any other she could propose; her acquirements duly qualified her for the office, and if she accepted, she was conscious she would give entire satisfaction.

Mrs. Hodgson seconded the motion, when it was immediately put and unanimously carried.

Mrs. Halworth accepted the honor they had done her, with becoming modesty; she then addressed the assembly:

"Ladies and Gentlemen—Before we proceed into the busines of the evening, I desire that the Gentlemen will withdraw; it is not done with a view to transact any thing of a secret nature—for it is commonly said that women can keep no secrets—but merely with a view that if, in our debates, (for it is something new for women to turn political orators,) we should, for want of knowledge make any blunders, we should be laughed at; to prevent which we should prefer being by ourselves." [Their male brethren immediately obeyed, and she proceeded]—

"Ladies: You have this evening placed me in a situation which I never occupied before. I kindly thank you for the honor you have done me, but cannot help observing, that I am a very unfit person for the office; but as you have placed me here to protect order and peace, I will perform the task as well as I am able. I assure you that I am determined to dedicate to liberty my heart, my body, yes, my very life. (Unbounded applause, with cries of 'Liberty.') I am young; but, ladies, young as I am, I can assure you that the borough villains have furnished me with such a woeful life of wretched experience, that I can feel for my injured, plundered countrywomen. This feeling is so acute that an eternal war is waged betwixt us, which will never end but in the emancipation of a distressed and overburdened people from slavery to liberty. (Reiterated applause.) These are sentiments I imbibed when almost a child, and as I grow older the grumbling spirit grows stronger. (Loud laughter.) I thank you, ladies, for your kind attention, but assure you I do not look for your applauses. Applaud me not; it cannot please me; for I consider it is my duty to use every ability in the cause, without receiving any reward at all for my weak endeavors. It is a good cause; it is the cause of God: we therefore are sure to triumph. Seeing then, that it is the common cause, let us all unite, and never cease from persevering in a cause so just and holy, until we fully possess those constitutional liberties and privileges which are the birth-right of every English man and woman."

The close of this speech was followed by every demonstration of applause.

We are sorry to say we could not learn the name of the lady who next addressed the assembly: she spoke nearly to the following effect:

"Mrs President and Ladies: I consider it a piece of the greatest absurdity and presumption in me to attempt saying any thing, after hearing such a display of female eloquence from the chair; in consideration of which, I will not detain you long, but briefly state what I have to say in conjunction with my worthy sister. I will act; it is a good cause; I affirm it in the most positive terms: it is the common cause, and a cause that only requires a little more attention paid to it to make it victorious, yes! the cause of liberty certainly must be from God, and if from him, who can stand against him? 'If God is for us, who can be against us?' Then hail sweet Liberty; expand thy virtues into the breast of every female in this once happy land! let sacrifice be made in every town and village in the kingdom unto thee, that thou may once more take the empire in the breasts of a brave, but enslaved people. (Applause.) I understand that the intention of this union is to co-operate with other unions for the general cause, and to give relief to incarcerated victims who are likely to suffer. I need not say, that it is to be feared you will have to look to our worthy, patriotic, and brave friend, the Rev. Jos. Harrison, who it is said, has a bill found against him for doing, the devils themselves do not know what, at the last Stockport meeting."

As soon as Mr. Harrison's name was mentioned, an involuntary torrent of tears was the event. After a few moments of profound silence, cries of—"Harrison and Liberty forever!" proceeded from every part of the room.

The business then proceeded on with the last speaker moving—

"That the Female Union co-operate with their male brethren in relieving those unfortunate individuals now confined in Chester Castle, Messrs. Baguelly, Johnston and Drummond; and all who may in future be incarcerated for advocating the cause of the People;" which was unanimously carried.

Miss Wrialty addressed the meeting as follows:—

"Mrs. President and Sisters: I love liberty and hate slavery; I know too truly the horrors of the one, and the virtues of the other. If a boroughmonger were to come to Stockport, and be compelled to weave for his living, he would more impatiently, when he saw he could get nothing more than a mess of pottage for his labor, cry out for Liberty and Reform! as well as those who are called the incorrigible swine, the disaffected, and the lower orders. I will not detain you; I have only to say, that I could wish us to have a cap of liberty, and present it at the next Public Meeting, as our sisters at Blackburn did at theirs; and that we form the determination to bring it victoriously back again, or lose our lives in its defence."

The following persons were properly elected to act as Committee for the Union:—

Miss Goodier, Miss Knowles, Miss Lowe, Mrs. Hodgson, Miss Whailey, Mrs. Kenworthy, Mrs. Rhodes, Miss Longson, Miss Johnstone, Mrs. Stewart, Secretary, and Mr. Hambleton, Treasurer.

A vote of thanks was given to Mr. Lawton, grocer, Hillgate: and to Mr. Sanderson, shoe dealer, opposite Bulkely Arms Inn, Stockport, for voluntarily stepping forward to give bail for Sir Charles Wolsely, Bart. Carried by universal acclamations of "Wolsely and Liberty?"

A vote of thanks was then passed to those seven patriotic individuals who have tendered themselves to come forward to give bail for our worthy friend the Rev. Joseph Harrison. Carried by unbounded acclamations of "Harrison forever!"

A vote of thanks was then proposed to their worthy Presidentess, which was carried in the usual way, by acclamation.

The Presidentess then replied:—

"Ladies: I do assure you, you have so wounded me, by the kind attention you have honored we with, that the load overwhelms me with such a sense of obligation, that I cannot express my thanks.—Suffice it to say, that this mark of esteem I will ever dearly cherish in my heart.—I can only say, that it will be a fresh stimulus to spur me on with greater avidity in the common cause Go peaceably home, for fear of furnishing the Boroughmongers with materials for another green bag. A plot is what they are (as Cobbett observes) dying for; and the only plan to frustrate their hellish wish, is to act constitutionally in all your undertakings.

The meeting then dispersed, about half past 10 o'clock, highly pleased with the proceedings of the evening.

S. Drew, Merchant Tailor,

Removed from Fairfax-street to the corner of King and Columbus streets, and his prices falling,

RESPECTFULLY acquaints his customers and the citizens in general that he has removed as above, where he will study to give satisfaction. S. Drew aware, of the advantage a ready money business has over one where long credit is given, thinks that a distinction ought to be made in the prices in each case: and as the price of provisions are low at present, he is glad to be able to announce to those customers who will feel disposed to pay him ready money for his work, that he will reduce the price of making to them according to the present journeymen's wages; and to prevent any supposed imposition on the one hand or disatisfaction on the other he is willing to be goverued by the printed regulations of prices by which the journeymen are paid in Alexandria.

N. B. Bread, flour, beef, groceries, liquors or any thing valuable taken in exchange for clothes.

S Drew has this day opened a tavern in the same house, where he has laid in a supply of Philadelphia and the district porter and ale, together with liquors of the best quality, and he feels confident that he shall be able to give satisfaction to all who will please to favor him with a call.—He is fitting up his house for the accommodation of boarders, travellers, &c. and from its central situation, good beds and stabling, together with other requisites, he presumes that it will be found a convenient establishment.

Was Committed,

TO the jail for the county of Alexandria on the 3d inst. as a runaway, a negro man called BEN HENDERSON, supposed to be the property of George Thornton, of King George county. The said negro is about 50 years of age; 5 feet 6 inches high; bald head; and a shoemaker by trade. The owner is desired to come prove property, pay charges, and take him away, otherwise he will be disposed of as the law directs.

ANDW. ROUNSAVELL,

100 Dollars Reward.

RAN away on the 28th of April, from the farm of the subscriber, in Dogue Neck, Fairfax Co. Virginia, negro HARRY, aged about twenty three years, about five feet ten inches high very black, well built, has a considerable impediment in his speech, when spoken to evinces much confusion, and replies almost unintelligibly: had on when he left home, a much worn suit of domestic cloth. I have every reason to believe that he is endeavoring to pass for a free man, and as such went off in some of the bay craft during the late fishing season. All masters of vessels are forewarned from barboring or taking into their employ said negro, under penalty of having the law rigidly enforced against them. I will give twenty dollars, if taken in the county of Fairfax, or district of Columbia; if beyond that distance, the above reward, provided he is secured in jail so that I get him again. WM. MASON.

Charles County, Md. June 1.

The editors of the National Intelligencer and Baltimore Federal Gazette will insert the above until forbid, and send their accounts to Port Tobacco for payment.

June 11 tf

100 Dollars Reward.

I WILL give the above reward to any person who will return to my possession, negro LAWRENCE, who assumes the sirname of FENWICK. This fellow left my farm, on the Wicomico river, in Charles county, Md. on the 6th July, in consequence of his own outrageous conduct towards my overseer. He is a negro of a fine erect figure, good features, asmooth black skin, rather above the middle stature, of a youthful appearance for one of thirty years of age, and of great plausibility and natural smartness. His ears grow remarkably close to his head, and on the inside of his lower lip he has a white mark or spot. I purchased him 4 years ago of the estate of Mrs. P. H. Courts, of this county. I am led (by circumstances which have come to my knowledge since he absconded,) to believe that he will endeavor to make his way to King George county, Va.; should he not take this route, he will probably be met with in the District of Columbia, or in the upper counties of this state, on his way to Pennsylvania. I apprehend he will change his name, and if committed to jail, refuse to state to whom he belongs. as the misconduct which preceded his departure, & his absconding, have all appeared since to have been premeditated. He took all his clothes with him, of which he had a large number; among them—a new bearskin over-coat, a long close-bodied blue coat, a pair of striped jean pantaloons, one or more white waistcoats, besides many articles of coarse cloathing; these, however, he will probably exchange, or sell them for cash to defray his travelling expenses.

I will give the above reward to any person who will bring him home to me, or FIFTY DOLLARS if confined in jail, and notice given me, so that I recover him.—Should he be taken out of the state, I will also pay all reasonable costs and charges which may attend the bringing him home.

PROSPECTUS

Of a new periodical work to be published in the city of Washington, entitled the

Washington Theological REPERTORY.

EDITORS. { Rev. Wm Hawley, Washington, Rev. Wm. H. Wilmer, Alexandria, Rev. Oliver Norris, Alexandria, Rev Reuel Keith, Georgetown.

Assisted by several other literary gentlemen of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

IF any apology were necessary for this undertaking, it may be found in the fact, that there is no publication on a similar plan, in all that section of our country lying south of New-York, and but one in the whole of the United States. It has been matter of equal surprize and regret, that the Episcopal Church should be so far behind other Christian denominations, in similar efforts to disseminate the principles of religion and piety. At a period like the present, when the Lord is preparing his way on earth, by the most remarkable efforts of human agency, and the most wonderful operations of his providence and grace—when we perceive in every part of Christendom, a praise-worthy emulation to share in the glorious work of filling the earth with the knowledge of the only true God, and his Son Jesus Christ; it would seem criminal for any to withhold their exertions, however feeble, in the great enterprize of human happiness and salvation. The editors have, therefore, felt it their duty to make this humble effort to supply this acknowledged deficiency on the part of the church in this section of the country, and to bear their share in the common exertions of Christians to promote the Redeemer's Kingdom. And having obtained the services of a gentleman, in whose talents and principles they have confidence, whose time will be wholly devoted to the superintendence of the work, they feel encouraged to solicit the patronage of the public.

The publecation will be conducted under the immediate inspection and control of the above named editors, who will form a committee to review every article intended for publication. The principles upon which it will be conducted are those of the bible, as illustrated in the articles, Liturgy and Homilies of the Protestant Episcopal Church. As members of this church the editors will feel bound to support the Apostolical character of her institutions, the pious tendency of her rites and ceremonies, and the evangelical nature of her doctrines But in these, and all other discussions, they hope never to loose sight of that great law of charity which teaches us to "preserve the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace."

Acting upon those catholic principles, so long and so successively pursued by "The Christian Observer," their chief object will be to inculcate sound theological knowledge, and to delineate and recommend pure and vital religion. They trust therefore, that while the members of every Christian denomination may find something edifying and instructive, none will discover any just cause for offence in the pages of this work. General subjects of biblical criticism, practical illustrations of scriptural truth, the biography of illustrious persons, evidences of the truth of revelation, essays on the history and polity of the church, reviews of interesting publications, religious, literary and philosophical intelligence—in short, whatever is connected with the promotion of religion, humanity and literature, will find a place in this repository.

The testimony of experience supersedes the necessity of dwelling on the advantages of a periodical publication on the plan proposed. Its obvious tendency will be to render the various departments of religious knowledge more easy and accessible, and give a more ready currency and wider circulation, to those great truths which involve the present welfare and future destiny of man.

It will tend powerfully to stimulate the exertions of the editors, and console them under the difficulties attendant on the prosecution of this work, amidst many other avocations, should it prove the means under the blessing of God, of enriching any of its readers with the saving knowledge of Christ, and prepare them for a participation in the felicity and glory of his heavenly kingdom. With this hope they commit it into his hands, and confidently solicit their brethren of the clergy and laity to assist them in carrying into effect the objects of the undertaking.

TERMS OF THE WORK.

A volume of the Repertory shall consist of twelve numbers, of which one shall be published on the first day of every month, containing thirty-two large octavo pages, stitched in blue, and attended with a table of contents.

The paper used in the work shall be good, and the typography executed with the greatest care.

The price of a volume is two dollars, payable in advance; to such as omit the advance, two dollars and fifty cents.

It is designed to enlarge the size of the work, without increasing the price, as soon as one thousand subscribers shall be obtained.

Communications and remittances may be directed to any of the editors, post paid

Any person becoming responsible for five subscribers, shall receive a sixth copy gratis.

The first number may be expected in the month of July. June26
